

JEFF EVANS

MOUNT EVEREST MOTIVATIONAL

SPEAKER

Do you want to bring a sense of adventure into your organization?
Want your next meeting to leave your staff feeling motivated and inspired?

Acclaimed adventurer, speaker, and author Jeff Evans has been helping companies and associations just like yours to find their deepest strengths for more than ten years. Through his gripping keynotes, he combines a sense of wonder, stunning visuals, and some light humor to share his message of MountainVision – the art of seeing what’s possible in a world of obstacles.

To Jeff, these aren’t just words. As the leader of an elite climbing team, he helped pull off one of the most improbable achievements in mountaineering history: guiding Erik Weihenmayer, a blind climber, to the summit of Mount Everest.

The success of his team was no accident. Jeff’s vision was that a strong group, working together and thinking creatively, could do something that would make the world take notice. And it’s these same lessons – which have served him through adventures and summits on six continents – that he teaches to audiences around the world today.

In his presentations, Jeff guides corporate and association groups through their challenges the same way he would a rugged mountain range: by showing them that leadership and teamwork can get you through any terrain, as long as you focus on one step at a time.

If you want to inspire your team to achieve greatness, call our office and find out what many Fortune 500 companies, leading associations, and government departments already have – that an hour spent with Jeff, and a view from the top, can change your entire perspective.
